TWENTY YEARS IN PRISON FOR MANSLAUGHTER

Anthoris Cocoruolis, a Greek, Who Killed Michael Manousos, Pleads Guilty--Other Cases in Superior Court.

Anthoris M. Cocoruolis, a Greek, noon, and was sentenced to not less than 20 years to manslaughter, in than 20 or more than 22 years in Superior Court, on Tuesday after state prison.

Cocoruolis was brought into court by Deputy Sheriff Shaw at 4:40 Tuesday afternoon, and County Solicitor Gupit called his case. He was represented by Lawyer Mitchell of this city and Lawyer Johnson of Boston, and they waived the reading of the indictment, and retracted the plea of not guilty to one of guilty. The prisoner, through the interpreter, Ar-

Thomas J. McCulloch is Owner of Immense Property

Portsmouth relatives of Thomas J. McCulloch, formerly of this city, are today inaugurating a systematic search of Central America for him. Messages mailed from this city today direct that the search for him be immediately established by the authorities of the central states. The search for Mr. McCulloch was incited by a letter which came to this city from a barrister in San Mateo. In the letter it was written that Mr. McCulloch disappeared from California in 1896 and that the large area of property then held by him has immensely increased in value. It is necessary for him to appear and conserve his rights in litigation that has begun. It is known in Portsmouth that Mr. McCulloch was in California for ten years preceding 1896. He had residence in San Francisco for a few years and he later was in Vallejo, Los Angeles and San Mateo. His Portsmouth relatives last heard from him a year ago in Guatemala City, Guatemala. He then requested them to purchase for him American underwear and shoes that could not be purchased in Guatemala. His request was complied with. Mr. McCulloch is about 40 years old. He left the last about twenty years ago.

ALL SAINTS' DAY

Today, All Saints' day, was observed with special service at the Church of the Immaculate Conception. Masses were held at 5:30 a. m. and 7:30 a. m., at which there was a large attendance with many communicants.

A STUBBORN CHILD

An exhibition of stubbornness was given this Wednesday noon by a seven year old lad named Kiltie. The young lad lay prone on the sidewalk in front of Harvey's jewelry store for a half hour time notwithstanding the efforts of pedestrians to get the little fellow to arise from the cold sidewalk. Finally a boy took the young lad up bodily and carried him down Fleet street towards his home, the little fellow kicking and screaming during the trip. The young lad lives in the street and it would seem as though some one should make provisions for his welfare before it is too late.

Grand Jury Returns Five Counts for Murder in Causing Death of Avis Linnell.

An indictment charging Clarence days V. T. Richeson with the murder of Avis Linnell, was returned Tuesday afternoon by the grand jury which investigated the death of Avis Linnell. The five counts in the indictment are specified so as to make a conviction possible. Owing to the nature of the crime charged a simple indictment might prove faulty. Richeson will be put to plea in a day or two. It is expected that his trial will be begun not later than in under investigation for nearly four January.

HOW IT CAN BE ACQUIRED

Attorney General Eastman Gives His Opinion to the Governor and Council Regarding Crawford Notch

To His Excellency the Governor and
the Honorable Council:

Pursuant to your request I have examined the opinion of the Justice of the Supreme Court, furnished to your Honorable Body, respecting the legality of an act providing for the acquisition by the State of the Crawford Notch, so-called. As you have observed, the Court holds that the act in its entirety is not a valid law;
that section three is all invalid, and that the act cannot now be correctly engrossed and presented to the Governor. At the close of the opinion the Court say that "whether under sections of the act to which our attention has not been called and existing statutory provisions, proceedings in invitum can be maintained for the taking of Crawford Notch, involves a question of private right, in the land owners which, if asked,
we should ordinarily feel obliged to answer, that question can be finally determined only in the course of litigation to which the land owners are parties, our view thereon have not been required, and we have not intended to express any opinion." And I understand your inquiry now is, whether or not under sections of the act to which the attention of the Court was not called, and existing statutory provisions, proceedings in invitum can be maintained by the State against the land owners.

The Governor and Council cannot acquire land by purchase under sec.
1 of the act, for the reason that there are no funds available for that purpose, all of section 2 having been declared invalid by the Court.

Section 2 of the act provides in substance that in case the land owners decline to sell the necessary land, wood, and timber, for a price deemed reasonable by the Governor and Council, that the Governor and Council are empowered to take and appropriate the same, and the way in which this is to be done and how the damages should be assessed, and finally determined are all carefully pointed out. In short, the process of taking land in invitum is ample and complete. This section is in no way dependent upon other parts of the act declared by the Court to be invalid, unless the right of procedure under said section 2 is made to depend upon the declaration of the land owner to sell the land required at a price deemed reasonable by the Governor and Council. Section 3 of the act is invalid and consequently there is no money with which to make the purchase contemplated under section 1. The case stands, so far as said section 2 is concerned,
the same as if there had been no provision for the purchase of the land,
the means for carrying out that plan having failed, the plan also fails, and inability to purchase at a fair price, or lack of money with which to make the purchase, are under this act in legal effect the same. The result is that the law in question practically consists of two acts, one providing for the purchase of land which is declared by the Court to be invalid, and one contained in said section 2 for taking land, which has not been declared invalid and my conclusion is, that under said section 2 the State can take land, but in order to meet constitutional requirements the land
so taken must be paid for. In adopting section 2 the legislature must be presumed to have intended to act in conformity with the constitution, and therefore there is an implied undertaking to pay the land owners the amounts which may be determined,
under the methods provided in said
section, and section 1 of chapter 20 Pub. State provides that "whenever any money is due from the State to any person, by force of a general law
special, act or resolution, the Governor is empowered, and it shall be his duty, with advice of the Council, to draw his warrant upon the treasury in favor of such person." Under this law, one Governor has full authority to complete the taking of the lands required, by paying the damages assessed out of any money in the treasury not otherwise appropriated.

I am aware that section 1, chapter 15, laws 1909 provides "that on and after the first day of September 1909, no money shall be paid from the treasury for any purpose, without a specific appropriation authorizing the expenditure." This statute probably repeals section 6, chapter 20, Pub.
State, and amendments, which provided for the payment of incidental State expenses and those of the different departments upon audit of the Governor and Council, without authority of a special act. Section 2 of chapter 15, laws 1909 repeals "as much of any statute now in force as authorizes annual appropriations of stated sums for an indefinite period of time, except salaries of officials." This law manifestly repeals only that part of section 1, chapter 20, Pub.

State, which authorizes the payment of money, except salaries, due on account of general law, but obligations arising by special act or resolution are not thereby affected, and we think that a careful review of all the legislation upon this subject confirms this opinion. My final conclusion is that where the lands have been taken under section 2 of the Crawford Notch Act, so-called, the Governor with advice of the Council has full authority to pay for the same
out of any money in the State treasury not otherwise appropriated.

Respectfully submitted,
EDWIN G. EASTMAN,
Attorney General.

INQUIRY INTO CLAIM

Washington, Oct. 31.—The connection of Ex-Secretary of State John W.
Foster and the late E. H. Conger, minister to China, with the payment of $368,236 out of the Boxer indemnity fund to heirs of Gen. F. T. Ward, killed in the Chinese Rebellion of 1862, was the subject of an inquiry started today by the House subcommittee on State Department expenditures.

Mr. Foster, who acted as attorney for the Ward heirs and with Robert Lansing secured half of the sum as attorney's fees, testified that John Hay, Secretary of State, had expressly approved a change in the protocol of Nov. 7, 1901, under which China had guaranteed an indemnity fund to various nations whose subjects were injured in the Boxer Rebellion.

This change in the protocol said
Mr. Foster, gave Sec. Hay authority to pay the World claim, although originated nearly 40 years before the Boxer Rebellion. He admitted that, as attorney for Mrs. G. M. Amblison, one of the Ward heirs, he had used every possible resource to influence the Chinese Government to agree to the settlement, and he read a confidential letter from Minister Conger, in which the latter said he had to "stretch his instructions," and had had great difficulty in bringing Prince Ching, the Chinese Premier, to approve the plan.

Through the efforts of Minister Conger and Ex-Sec. Foster the latter stated, the Chinese Government was induced to ask the American Government to sanction the payment of the claim from the Boxer funds. Chairman Hamlin and Representative Dent of the investigating committee were unable to understand by what authority Sec. Hay could have diverted the Boxer funds, except by an act of Congress.

"It required an act of Congress
apparently, to authorize the repayment of part of the indemnity fund
to China," said Representative Dent
and I cannot see by what authority
Sec. Hay could have used the funds to pay the Ward claim."

The committee will hold no further meetings until additional facts have been obtained relative to the payment to the Ward estate.

Mr. Foster said he was drawing a yearly sum from the Chinese Government, as its special attorney when he secured the payment of the Ward claim, but declared that Government was fully aware of his activity in the case. He denied that the claim had been previously paid.

The report of Charles Denby minister of China in 1887, which mentions the payment of the Ward claim did not cover the claim of the Ward estate, he said, but of other Americans who lost property or relatives
through the operations of Ward's army.

Gen Ward led what was known as the "Ever Victorious Army" of Imperial Chinese troops in the Taiping rebellion in 1862 and 1863 and was killed in the latter year, after rendering important service to the Chinese Government.

RISKED HIS LIFE

Manchester Man Saves Two and Receives Slight Hurts

Manchester, Oct. 31.—Risking his life, Gustave Rogler of 90 Williams street a driver in the employ of the bottling establishment of Robert Schneider, jumped from the seat of his wagon at noon today and saved

the lives of two children, whom he snatched from beneath the feet of a pair of runaway horses.

Mr. Rogler was driving along West street when his attention was attracted by the antics of several women. Looking ahead he saw two children at play directly in the pathway of a pair of runaway horses.

Rogler jumped from his seat for the ground tossed one of the children from the street to a small embankment and the second he reached for and pulled from under the horses' feet.
The frightened horses struck
Rogler's wagon and caused a mixup,
after which Rogler's horse started on a mad plunge, but was caught by the driver before he got away.

The pair of horses when freed made a second dash for liberty, this time running into a telegraph pole.
Rogler suffered a painfully bruised leg, which caused him to give up his work.

The pair of runaway horses are owned by Clarence B. Danforth of 19 School street, trainer. They were left standing on South Main street, where it is said they were frightened by an electric car.

WILL INVESTIGATE

DEATH

Col. Gale of Brockton Will Make
Thorough Investigation

Brockton, Oct. 31.—Col Benjamin F.
Gale of 213 Pine street intends to make a thorough investigation of the death of his former wife, whose body was found Monday night in a hotel in Palestine, Tex. Mr. Gale was here two weeks ago, when she secured a divorce from her husband at Plymouth. Mrs. George B. Chishman of a street, a sister of Mrs. Gates and other relatives, are making an effort to ascertain the cause of death. Col.
Gale says he will go to Texas if the authorities so desire.

Local friends of Mrs. Gale are of the opinion that she ended her own life in a fit of despondency. She left here three years ago with Dr. Guy
J. Small of East Bridgewater, and Dr. Small is said to have gone with her to Palestine. Yesterday a telegram signed G. O. Small was received by relatives of Mrs. Gale asking if they wished the body sent North.

Mrs. Gale told friends here just before she left two weeks ago that she expected to be married to Dr.
Small as soon as she secured a divorce. Relatives state that evidently Mrs. Gale did not carry out her plans.

There is a warrant in the local police for the arrest of Dr. Small, alleging larceny in a horse and carriage deal.

Dr. Small went to East Bridgewater eight years ago with his wife and established a wide practice.
Later he engaged in the leather business, but returned a few months later to his profession. His wife left him and went to Camden, Me., where she divorced him. He was of unusually fine appearance and during the few months he lived here became prominent in fraternal organizations and included Col. Gale among his best friends.

ARABS RECAPTURE TWO FORTS

Constantinople, Oct. 31.—The Turkish troops, with their Arab allies have retaken two forts at Tripoli and forced the Italians to intrench themselves within the city, after abandoning large quantities of guns, rifles, ammunition and provisions, according to a telegram from Rahmi Saloni, who is now at Tripoli.

TWENTY YEARS FOR MANSLAUGHTER

thurs. Dedes, entered a plea of guilty. Judge Wallace immediately imposed the sentence, Clerk Knight reading it and it was interpreted by Mr. Dedes but it made no visible impression on the prisoner. He was at once returned to jail.

The crime of which Cocorulos was convicted was the killing of a fellow countryman, Michael Manousos, on the morning of Monday, Aug. 28, at 99 McDonough street. Manousos, who was attempting to act as a peacemaker, was stabbed in the throat and died shortly afterwards.

The prisoner it appears was under the influence of liquor, and had been at the boarding house of his brother, Peter Cocorulos, on McDonough street, and had created considerable trouble. He had been thrown out once or twice and finally left about one o'clock, with wild threats against his brother. He went to his boarding house and armed himself with a big butcher knife and returned to his brother's house. He aroused the people and finally Michael Manousos went down to the door to get him to go away peacefully. Manousos was not to be denied admittance and when Manousos tried to get him to go home, he pulled his knife and stabbed him, inflicting a deep cut below the neck from which he died almost immediately. The police were not notified until some time after. The prisoner was arrested at seven o'clock that morning.

Another criminal case was disposed of Tuesday afternoon. Samuel Hyman of Auburn pleaded guilty to charge of keeping a gambling place and he was fined $100 and cost taxed at $50. He paid.

The civil suit of Charles Mahoney against Rufus Wood was heard on Tuesday afternoon. This is an action for damage brought by Mahoney against Wood for personal injuries. The case was given to the jury at six o'clock and they were still out at midnight.

The case of Susan Newcomb vs. the town of Hampton, for which a jury was drawn was not tried. After a conference by the counsel, the case was taken from the jury and it will be settled out of court.

BITS OF SPORT

The football teams from the U. S. S. Tennessee and Montana will meet on the South playgrounds this afternoon.

At a meeting of the board of directors of the Washington American league baseball clubs, Clark Griffith, manager of the Cincinnati National league team, was unanimously elected as manager of the Washington team, to succeed James McAleer now part owner of the Boston Americans. The contract is for three years.

Jim Jeffries intends to wager $1500 on Ad Wolgast, the English boxer, in their 20-round bout for the lightweight title before the Pacific A. C. of Vernon, Cal., on the afternoon of Thanksgiving day. Jeffries always did think that Wolgast was the greatest little fighter in the world, and he's willing to back up that "think."

Fitchburg has already given to the world three major league players in the veteran Kittredge, for so many years with Anson's colts; Jimmy Callahan, manager of the Chicago White Sox for next season, and Pat Moran, with the Philadelphia Nationals.

Roland H. Chase of Fitchburg, Mass., who is not yet 18 years of age, is to be given a trial next spring by Connie Mack of the world's champion Athletics, and will be taken South upon the usual spring training trip. Chase bats from Orange, Mass., where he first played on the high school team of that place, but during the last season he covered first in phenomenal fashion upon the semi-professional team of Fitchburg. He had about made up his mind to sign a contract with the Springfield club of the Connecticut league when Mack's offer came along.

A HARMLESS WAY TO DARKEN THE HAIR

Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Makes the Gray Hair Vanish

Who does not know the value of sage and sulphur for keeping the hair dark, soft, glossy and in good condition? As a matter of fact, sulphur is a natural element of hair, and a deficiency of it in the hair is held by many hair specialists to be connected with loss of color and vitality of the hair. Unquestionably, there is no better remedy for hair and scalp troubles, especially premature grayness, than sage and sulphur, if properly prepared. The Wyeth Chemical Company of New York put up an ideal remedy of this kind, called Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy, and authorize druggists to sell it under guarantee that the money will be refunded if it fails to do the work exactly as represented.

If you have dandruff, or if your hair is thin or turning gray, get a bottle of this remedy from your druggist today and see what it will do for you.

This preparation is offered to the public at fifty cents a bottle and is recommended and sold by all druggists.

AT MUSIC HALL

A Strong Vaudeville Program Being Presented.

Large audiences are attending each performance at Music hall this week, where five reels of the latest and most up to date motion pictures are being shown. A strong vaudeville program is presented at each performance. Mitchell and Grant in their pleasing musical comedy have jumped into public favor and their act must be seen to be appreciated. Madeline Shone, the Jolly Big Girl, also does a pleasing turn.

Remember that on Monday evening next the baseball pictures of the World's series will be shown at Music Hall in addition to the regular bill.

Only two more months, and the year 1911, will be a thing of the past.

THE BIG REVIEW

Officers and Men Busy Getting the Ships Ready

New York, Nov. 1.—Officially New York will observe Thursday, so far as possible, as a holiday in honor of the presence here of 102 United States warships, the largest assemblage of floating guns and armament ever attempted by the United States Navy.

The Board of Aldermen today unanimously adopted a resolution requesting the heads of City Departments to allow employees a holiday Thursday when President Taft reviews the big fleet.

Officially it is apparent the day will be generally observed as a holiday and newspapers are promptly patriotism by urging that the Stars and Stripes be displayed from every available staff in the city.

The illumination of the fleet was repeated tonight making the Hudson River look from a distance like an immense Summer amusement park.

More than 150,000 electric bulbs outlined the towering military masts and the long hulls. It was estimated that more than 100,000 persons witnessed the spectacle.

The business of the day among the 25,000 officers and men was putting the ships in readiness for inspection tomorrow by the Secretary of the Navy, George von L. Meyer, who reached the city today.

The Secretary issued tonight a program of his plans. Aboard the presidential yacht Mayflower he will proceed to the flagship Connecticut at about 2 in the afternoon and exchange calls with Rear Admiral Osterhaus. After this the Secretary will steam to the upper end of the line, passing the assembled fleet.

President Taft will arrive in Jersey City at 7:15 Thursday morning and will be taken to the Mayflower. The President's flag will be broken about 9:30 a. m. Thursday, when Rear Admiral Osterhaus and other flag officers will call on the Commander-in-chief and he will probably return those calls on the flagship Connecticut.

"POMANDER WALK" IN BOSTON

Boston, Oct. 31.—"Pomander Walk" Louis N. Parker's exquisite comedy of happiness, drew to the Plymouth Theatre tonight one of the largest and most fashionable audiences that ever attended a Boston theatrical event. The play was interpreted by the original cast from Wallace's Theatre, New York, the same players who were brought from London to America by Leblond and company to portray correctly its quaint and delightful English atmosphere.

The unexpected beauty of "Pomander Walk" stage setting brought a hearty round of spontaneous applause the six little houses on the bank of the Thames and the bit of old-fashioned street looking as if one could walk right into them past the footlights. Lenox Pawle and George Ciddens quickly established themselves in the hearts of the audience as funmakers of the first rank, while in the sweet heart roles of Jack and Marjoline Edgar Kent and Dorothy Parker became prime favorites.

Others who scored individual hits were Messrs. Percyval, Craske and Dance and the Misses Cynthia Brooke Maud Milton, Winifred Fraser and Kate Phillips. Without a note of tragic gloom or melodramatic complications, the play ripples merrily along with mirthful incidents and delightful love scenes interspersed.

At the close of the second act there were no less than fourteen curtain calls, and finally the entire company were obliged to come forward and acknowledge their appreciative thanks for the unprecedented warmth of their reception. Owing to the big success of the opening night and heavy advance sale of seats, no limit has been set to the engagement of "Pomander Walk" at the Plymouth.

All orders will receive careful and prompt attention if addressed with check to Manager Fred E. Wright, Plymouth Theatre.

COLLEGE OF JOURNALISM

Joseph Pulitzer's Million Gift Is Now Available for Use

New York, Oct. 31.—The gift of $1,000,000 which Joseph Pulitzer offered in 1903 for the institution of a school of journalism at Columbia University is now available for use. "Mr. Pulitzer's death not only makes this money available," said a principal officer of Columbia, "but we are obligated to use it. We will start in right away."

The project was present in Mr. Pulitzer's mind up to the very time of his death. The opposition which met the idea when Mr. Pulitzer first suggested it delayed action far beyond what he contemplated. But though he twice modified the terms of his gift he was far from abandoning it. He undertook personally to keep the matter alive.

One of the World staff said yesterday that Mr. Pulitzer had consulted with him about the school a short time before he started south. "He wanted to know if I had anybody in mind who could serve as the head of the school," he said. "He is very much in mind and was interested to find some one who could set it going properly."

Mr. Pulitzer within a month had seen Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, president of Columbia about the same thing. He talked with Dr. Butler also about his ideas for the school and the scope of the instruction which it should offer. Mr. Pulitzer's requested Dr. Butler at various times to ask some of the principal editors of New York papers for their ideas concerning the school. In most cases Mr. Pulitzer specified what editors Dr. Butler should consult. No one at Columbia was ready yesterday to specify when the school would be ready to receive students, or even when the first definite steps would be toward getting the school started.

When Mr. Pulitzer made his first agreement with Columbia he offered $1,000,000 outright, with an additional $1,000,000 to be paid at the end of the first three years of successful operation. This agreement was dated April 10, 1903, and executed on July 20 following. He paid $200,000 over to the university and offered to complete the first million by June 1, 1904. The university only of this sum was to provide a building and also on Morningstar Heights and to pay the salaries of instructors and otherwise keep up the school.

The lawyer for the defense found it necessary to weaken the testimony of the main witness for the prosecution.

"Mr. Skybo," he said, proceeding to cross examine him, "did you ever live on the seacoast?"

"Yes, sir," responded the witness, "I have lived half my life in a seacoast town."

"You are familiar, then, with salt water fish?"

"Yes, sir."

"Well, just as a matter of information, will you please tell me how a flounder swims—whether horizontally or vertically?"

"Well—er—"

The Coffee Plant's Friend.
In Columbia there is a tree highly esteemed as a shade for the coffee plant. It is found also in tropical Brazil and possesses qualities that make it peculiarly suited for this particular use. It will live on a stony, poor soil, and a tree only eighteen months old will shade 144 square yards of ground, while when full grown it may be fifty feet high and have a spread of fifty feet on every side.

PRESERVING THE NOTCH

That Crawford Notch may be taken by the state by right of eminent domain is pleasing news to the people of New Hampshire. It will be recalled that the New Hampshire legislature at its last session, voted to acquire that region in the White Mountains as a public reserve, but that through an error on the part of the clerk the copy of the act submitted to the governor and signed by him did not have an amendment which had been passed providing for an unlimited appropriation. The attorney general ruled that although the governor was in favor and intended to sign the act as adopted he had no right to act under it. The attorney general was then asked for an opinion as to whether the governor and counsel might proceed to take the property under the right of eminent domain. In his reply, made public Monday night, Attorney General Eastman gave it as his opinion that the governor and council have full authority to complete the taking of lands required by the payment of damages from any moneys in the treasury not otherwise appropriated. Following this decision the governor and council has ordered the survey of the territory comprised in the proposed reserve.

AMONG OUR EXCHANGES

Muckrakers of History

Historic muckrakers are a busy lot. Their industry would indicate that they violate the eight hour law and work on Sunday. There is no historic fact, no matter how securely set down in books, and no matter how firmly believed, that they will not upset. According to a recent re-writer of history Capt. John Parker did not say at Lexington "Stand your ground. If war is to begin, let it begin here," or words to that effect. The monument at Lexington is inscribed with a fable. However, Americans have so long believed that Capt. John Parker did use those valorous words that their belief will not be shaken by a new book. It was only about a year ago that some New England historians sought to prove that nearly all of New England's revolutionary heroes were fakers.

All the rest of the country has agreed that though New Englanders were not the best makers of history, nor the makers of the best history, they were the best writers of history. It is not fair that they should turn around and proceed with the unwriting of history. If this tendency is not checked some New England "re-negade" will finally try to show that New England did not establish the American republic, and did not fight the revolutionary war.

It has always been considered an oversight on the part of New England history that they failed to claim George Washington, Thomas Jefferson, George Mason and Patrick Henry were born in Boston.—Washington Star.

Naval Spectacle at New York

The president will on Thursday review the greatest fighting fleet that ever rode American waters and the mightiest fleet of war craft ever massed under the American flag. In efficiency, strength, size and number our armada at anchor in the Hudson river today justifies the pride which Americans feel in their navy. The fleet mobilized off New York symbolizes the power of the people it represents. Built and manned by Americans, the great spectacle thrills the national pride.

The American people take a great interest, and are year by year taking a greater interest, in their navy. No longer do they need ponderous arguments to impress them with the worth of sea power. A trading people with thousands of miles of coast against which oceans beat, with international obligations and over sea possessions, the American nation has come to realize that a great navy is a necessity as a guarantee and insurance of full, peaceful national development. Nearly all Americans have a grateful feeling toward their navy. Its traditions are noble. It has never been found wanting in enterprise, valor and effectiveness.

FIFTY YEARS AGO TODAY
Gleanings From Files of Portsmouth Chronicle

The Third New Hampshire Regiment was paid off on Wednesday last, each company receiving about $1,000, mostly in treasury notes. This payment was for add days from the time the companies entered camp at Concord until Sept. 1. The next payment will be for the two months ending Oct. 31st. Drummers and fifers were paid at the rate of $12 per month, their pay not having been increased like the pay of the privates.

The workmen on the Portsmouth Navy Yard held a meeting Wednesday noon to consider the expediency of sending an agent to Washington, to procure the building of one or more of the five steamers which are to be built. Mr. Prescott, master machinist, made a plain statement of the matter after which it was unanimously voted to send Dr. M. F. Wentworth, whose efforts, we think, judging from his past endeavors cannot fail of being successful. We understand that he leaves this morning.

The workmen at the Charlestown Navy Yard are following the noble example sent by those at the Portsmouth Navy Yard. They commenced receiving their pay on Monday, and almost without exception thus far, have each contributed the amount of one day's pay for the relief of our troops, the contribution will amount to about $5,000, and will be placed in the hands of Gov. Andrew to be used as he shall deem best. The officers and others connected with the yard have made donations for the same purpose.

Taking Changes

The net result of President Taft's tour has been more favorable to his personal interests than some of his best friends thought it would be. There has been no "break" similar to the one at Winona. His consistent advocacy of his proposed arbitration treaties with Great Britain and France and his explanation of his reasons for proceeding notwithstanding the opposition of the Senate's foreign relations committee have won the people, and also not a few United States senators who hitherto have been hostile or indifferent. He can renew the pressure upon the Senate confident that he has the people with him, and that former President Roosevelt has not their support.

Nor is the verdict much different with respect to other items of his platform. His candor in saying what he thinks, irrespective of whether his hearers approve or not, helps him in the long run. He has been very emphatic and outspoken in defense of his policies, and has not hedged when in the territory of the faction of his own party that is openly opposing his renomination. Both combined capital and combined labor have been given to understand that he will vigorously enforce the law against monopoly and restraint of trade; and acts by his subordinates, with his sanction, have demonstrated that he means what he says. Consequently he can return to the White House reasonably content with the practical results of his trip so far as his political future is concerned.

Germany's Dilemma

While there is less sordid poverty in Germany than elsewhere in Europe the German working classes are just now suffering severe hardships because of the high price of food. So acute has the situation become that many private corporations have given their employees a bonus amounting to half a month's wages to help them meet the increased cost of living. Municipal food depots have been established in the large cities and the government has lowered freight rates on some food products, while refusing to lower tariffs. The long drought resulting in the failure of the beet sugar, potato and other crops, is the immediate cause of this distressing situation. The high tariff on imported food products and the huge governmental expenditures of the last three years or naval armament are contributing factors.

During the Reichstag elections which will take place within the next few months these contributing causes will receive the most attention, and a reversal of Germany's traditional policy may be one of the important results. Her present policy of maintaining a high protective tariff on food products was initiated by Bismarck during the first decade of the empire. It was the iron chancellor's desire to placate the agrarians. The political necessities of the German administration had the same influence upon the tariff there as the financial necessities of the civil war had in this country.

The Social Democratic and Liberal orators are keeping the German laborer apprised of the situation. The cry of the impoverished masses against the privileged classes is catching echoes in every German province, and unless all signs fail the forthcoming elections will witness a general shift in the balance of power among the parties in the Reichstag. Such a change, if it results in tariff reductions, will be to our advantage. We are still able to spare grain and meat products for export. Relieved from the hardship of discriminations our exports to Germany will increase very largely. Some sort of reciprocity between Germany and the United States is a not impossible outcome of the German elections.—Boston Herald.

Sanitary Food Shops

Health officers in various cities are moving vigorously to insure a more healthful stapling in the food-purveying shops, by insisting upon the covering of meats and other materials that may convey disease.
Locally good work has been done lately by inspectors of the health department, who as far as possible have been covering the field and examining the premises of grocers and butchers and instructing them as to the approved methods of sanitary storekeeping. Not many cases have been taken to court, probably for the reason that the food vendees of Washington have as a class respected the requirements and shown a willingness to co-operate. In New York, however, it has been necessary to round up the food dealers on his charge, and the other day seventy-one were arraigned in one court. The moral example of such a round up is proportionate to the vigor with which it is followed by other jurisdictions. In too many cases municipal virtue is spasmodic, and after a single sweep of law violators into court to satisfy the public that something is being done there is a lapse into quietude.

In the matter of food cleanliness little can be done without the co-operation of the public. Customers should personally inspect the premises of their various dealers and should give their patronage to those who observe the laws of sanitation. In many cases the housewives do their marketing by telephone and never see the shops themselves. They by buying from the dirtiest of stores in entire ignorance. In the whole matter of not only the cost of food, but the cleanliness of the supply, much depends upon the personal attention of the consumer. Purchases that are left with servants or to the dealers themselves are never so satisfactory as those made directly and in person. With the housekeepers of Washington insisting upon clean food the health officer will have little difficulty in keeping the stores up to standard, even with his small force of inspectors.—Washington Star.

MUST HAVE SAFETY APPLIANCES

Important Finding Made Public by the Supreme Court Affecting Railroads

Complete control of all the railroads of the country by the Interstate Commerce Commission, as thought by some to be foreshadowed by the supreme court of the United States, holding that hereafter all locomotives cars or other equipment used on any railroad which is a highway of interstate commerce must comply with the Federal Safety Appliance act.

In its opinion the court holds that compliance with the Federal law is compulsory on all railroads which are engaged in the transportation of persons or freight from one state to another. Elaborating this, however, it holds that cars or equipment of such roads, even if engaged in such transportation within the confines of a state must be considered as part and parcel of the road, and therefore under the jurisdiction of the federal commission.

APPLICATION FOR CONFIRMATION OF COMPOSITION

In the District Court of the United States for the District of New Hampshire

In the matter of CORNELIUS H. EMERSON, { In Bankruptcy Bankrupt.

To the Honorable Edgar Aldrich, Judge of the District Court of the United States for the District of New Hampshire:

I, Edgar Aldrich, do hereby certify that on the 28th day of October, A. D. 1911, I received from the Honorable Cornelius H. Emerson, the above named bankrupt, and respectfully represents to the Court that, after he had been examined in open court for a meeting of his creditors and had filed in court a schedule of his property and a list of his creditors as required by law, he offered terms of composition to his creditors, which terms have been accepted in writing by a majority in number of all creditors whose claims have been allowed, which number represents a majority in amount of such claims; that the consideration to be paid by the bankrupt to his creditors, the money necessary to pay all debts which have priority, and the cost of the proceedings, amounting in all to the sum of two thousand seven hundred and sixty dollars, has been deposited, subject to the order of the Judge, in the Merchants National Bank of Manchester, N. H., a designated depository of money in bankruptcy cases.

WHEREFORE the said Cornelius H. Emerson respectfully asks that the said composition may be confirmed by the court.

CORNELIUS H. EMERSON, Bankrupt.

Order Of Notice Thereon.

District of New Hampshire, ss.

On the 28th day of October, A. D. 1911, coming before the Honorable Judge of the District Court of the United States for the District of New Hampshire, at Concord, N. H., on the 9th day of November, A. D. 1911, before said court at Concord, in said District, after notice in the foregoing and said notice thereof published in the Portsmouth Herald, a newspaper printed in said District, and that all known creditors and other persons interested may appear at the said time and place and show cause, if any they have, why the prayer of the said petitioner should not be granted.

And it is further ordered by the court, that the clerk shall send by mail to all known creditors, notices of said petition and this order addressed to them at their places of residence as stated.

WITNESS THE HONORABLE EDGAR ALDRICH, Judge of the said Court, and the seal of said Court, in said District, on the 28th day of October, A. D. 1911.

KITTERY LETTER

Kittery, Nov. 1.

Married, in York, Monday, by the Rev. Arthur J. Price, Clarence Grant of that town, and Miss Lucy Haley of North Kittery.

Mr. and Mrs. Leslie M. Blackford of Pleasant street will on Monday evening next celebrate their silver wedding.

Mrs. Ida Otis of Government street is this afternoon entertaining the Nisley Dozen whist club.

The Pine Hill Whist club met last evening with Mrs. J. E. Paul. Next session will be with Miss Carrie Paul.

The youngsters of all ages were out in full force last evening and Halloween pranks they played were many. The streets throughout the village are well covered with beans, while many other evidences that they did not confine themselves to blowing beans alone, can be found on almost every street. One reminder of the day was at the Wentworth school where the doors were barricaded with the old plank taken up when the new walk was laid.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Baker have returned from a few days' visit in York.

Whipple lodge, I. O. G. T. meets this evening in Grange Hall.

The fair of Riverside association opens two weeks from today in Wentworth hall.

The idea of having a branch of the Boy Scouts formed here is proving very popular with the boys.

The following new companies have filed articles of incorporation with the secretary of state of Maine:

The Shaw-Lundin Auto Company, Kittery—Capital, $10,000. Promoters: Barton W. Shaw, Newton Center; Thomas P. Malone, Dorchester; Horace Mitchell, Kittery.

Manchester Building Company, Kittery—Capital, $5000. Promoters: Horace Mitchell, C. E. Smothers, M. G. Mitchell, Kittery.

A fish chowder was served after the regular meeting of Constitution Lodge, Knights of Pythias, last evening.

Mrs. Joseph W. Hobbs of Wentworth street is slowly improving from her illness.

Dr. E. E. Shapleigh left on Tuesday on a hunting trip in eastern Maine.

The entertainment and sale by Kittery grange occurs tomorrow evening in Grange hall.

The regular monthly business meeting of the Christian Endeavor society will be held tomorrow evening at 7 o'clock in the church vestry.

The regular business meeting of Crystal chapter, Epworth League, will be held this evening at the home of Mrs. Charles W. Philbrick on Rogers road.

Dirigo Encampment meets on Friday evening.

The house of George Smart on Love lane being erected by Contractors Keen and Bowden is being pushed as fast as possible. It is now being clapboarded.

Mrs. Fred Trefethen of Rogers road is reported ill.

Electric lights are being installed in the house of Charles W. Philbrick on Rogers road.

Kittery Point
The belated tug "Scylla" of the Eastern Dredging Co. arrived from Portland Monday evening with her tow of two scows.

Horace Mitchell, Jr., sustained painful, though not serious injuries on Monday, by falling from the carriage of his father, Hon. Horace Mitchell.

Samuel Blake and Clark Wynman are engaged in painting the house of Mrs. Jane Patch.

Not many people now living are aware that Moore's Island, in the river harbor, once contained quite an extensive graveyard. It must have been established by the earliest settlers, for the oldest inhabitant cannot recollect any vestige of it, though the late Squire Bellamy used to relate that while plowing on the island many years since, one of his oxen broke into a grave. In a very ancient deed of the island, the graveyard is mentioned as being nine rods square, and a right of way to it was reserved.

W. S. Kupier and wife, who have been visiting the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Baker, returned to their home in New York on Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Stanley Segee are entertaining friends from Portland.

Mrs. Susan Perry left on Tuesday for a visit to relatives in Alfred, Me.

The Sunbeam Sunday School class will meet with their teacher, Mrs. Justin Sawyer, on Saturday forenoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Victor Amice gave a Halloween party on Tuesday evening at their Sea Point bungalow.

Mr. and Mrs. Judson G. Irish have returned from a prolonged visit to Providence, R. I.

Mrs. Fred Trefethen is confined to

Mrs. Winslow's SOOTHING SYRUP has been used for over SIXTY YEARS by MILLIONS of MOTHERS for their CHILDREN with UNFAILING SUCCESS. IT SOOTHES THE CHILD, SOFTENS THE GUMS, ALLEVIATES ALL PAIN, CURES COLIC, and is the best remedy for DIARRHOEA. It is absolutely harmless. Be sure and ask for "Mrs. Winslow's" Syrup, and take no other kind. Twenty-five cents a bottle.

The upsetting of ash barrels on Halloween night may have been sport (?) for the young people, but it was not considered as such by our citizens who were obliged to clean up the rubbish this morning.

DOROTHY DODD SHOES

Afternoon teas and the Fall and Winter's social whirl demand footwear that is not only of immaculate appearance, but distinctive in style and faultless in fit. We meet your wants in this line by showing many exclusive novelties in our Shoe Department. We can show many other makes of lower grade goods.

NICKELS ARE GENUINE

Hundreds of inquiries from all sections of the country have been received at the treasury department from persons who have believed recent reports that all nickels dated 1910 are counterfeit. The reports were spread persistently, occasionally banks and business men much inconvenience. There are 30,000,000 nickels of 1910 in circulation and, so far as the treasury knows, all are genuine. Some of them were discolored in the minting by fumes of sulphur acid which gives them an unusual appearance. They are genuine, none the less.

TWENTY EIGHT YEARS OF SERVICE

JOHN TORREY

John Torrey, the Well-Known Collector of the Frank Jones' Brewing Co., Has Seen Years of Service

Twenty-eight years in the employ of the Frank Jones' Brewing company, a salesman and collector, is the honorable record of John Torrey of this city.

Being employed by a large corporation that length of time is a record that most any man can feel proud of.

Mr. Torrey was born in Newburyport, Mass., April 18, 1854, the son of John and Elizabeth Torrey. His parents moved to Newfields when he was eight years old and after completing schooling he entered a grocery store as clerk. After acquiring a thorough knowledge of the grocery business, he engaged in the business of himself conducting the same up to a few years ago.

On November 1, 1883, he entered the employ of the Frank Jones' Brewing company, then under the management of Hon. Frank Jones, his first duties being as salesman and collector for the company. During his long years of service he has worked in every state in which the Frank Jones' Brewing company does business.

He has worked under the following managers: Frank Jones, Justin V. Loran, Maxwell A. Todd, Edwin L. Loran, Howard Gray and P. M. Robinson, and has enjoyed the utmost confidence of these gentlemen.

Only two men are now employed in the mammoth plant, that were here when Mr. Torrey began his duties, George J. Cloutman and John Newton.

He married Addie M. Anderson of Newburyport, Mass., on April 26, 1874 and they have one son Harry K. Torrey, private secretary to Governor Robert P. Bass.

In politics Mr. Torrey has been a staunch republican and while a resident of Newfields was chairman of the town committee, represented the town in the state legislature and is at present a member of the state committee.

In order to be nearer to his duties, Mr. Torrey and his family have during the past year taken up their residence in this city, and will hereafter make it their home.

He is prominently identified in section societies, being a member of Pioneer Lodge, No. 1, Knights of Pythias and William A. Frye Company, No. 1, R. K. P. of Newmarket, St. John's Lodge, A. F. and A. M. and Quasquaunung Lodge, No. 39, I. O. O. F. of Newburyport, Mass., and of Exeter, and Portsmouth Locomotive, No. 97 B. P. O. E., of this city.

A brilliant wedding took place at Trinity Episcopal church at York Harbor at high noon today, Wednesday, the contracting parties being Miss Muriel Jerrold Kelley, second daughter of Commander and Mrs. J. D. Jerrold Kelley of New York, and Samuel Stansburg Brady of Baltimore, Md.

The ceremony was performed by Very Rev. Frank L. Vernon, dean of St. Luke's Cathedral, Portland, Me., and was witnessed by friends of the contracting parties from Boston, Portland, New York, Philadelphia and Baltimore.

To the strains of the wedding march, played by Organist W. W. McIntire, the bride entered the church, leaning on the arm of her father. The groom, and his best men, Aruna Sheppardson Brady of Baltimore were waiting at the altar.

The bride was attired in a beautiful gown of white satin, trimmed with Duchesse lace, court train and will be delivered to the new owners in February.

It will be one of the first boats engaged in this work and will run between Nova Scotia and this port, the year round.

In taking the new steamer, not yet named, the McElwain company paid a large sum of money, as the craft will be one of the most up to date of its kind along the coast. The boat will fly the English flag.

The gathering of the Knights of Columbus here on Sunday next promises to be the largest in the history of the organization. A special banquet will be given by the local Knights. From there they will march to the Immaculate Conception church where they will attend solemn high mass at which a special musical program will be rendered. In the afternoon the third degree will be exemplified on a large class of candidates to be followed by a banquet.

The Herald Hears

That local railroad men are considering where the fighting will strike as a result of the new train.

That some more work will shortly be needed at the navy yard to hold the present force for the winter.

That the shift of police officers' beat is daily expected.

That the Speed club is more classy than ever.

That the Girls Social club are having a busy season.

That Portsmouth's new gas plant will be one of the best in this section of the country when completed.

That there is a rush of freight business on the Boston and Maine railroad.

That the changes at the custom house pleased the employees.

That the degree work on Sunday by the K. of C. will be worked in the upper Pierce hall.

That the sidewalk problem is somewhat of a puzzle on Islington street near Dover street.

That the D. Y. R. club made a hit at South end on Tuesday night.

That the surprise party certainly was a surprise.

That the 6 o'clock blast of the whistle on the Baker Leather company plant is as good as an alarm clock to the people in that section of the city.

That the buildings to cover the wharf of the McElwain company will soon be built.

That the P. A. A. will try and hand one to the Mohawks of Manchester on Saturday next.

That there are many at the navy yard who say the North Carolina will be back before April.
